Writing Program Administrator As Researcher Inquiry In Action And Reflection:

The Writing Program Administrator as Researcher Shirley K. Rose, Irwin Weiser, 1999 This collection of essays discusses writing program administrators WPA's research. The essays pose several questions to characterize WPA's research practices: What is WPA research? What characterizes WPA research and the sites of WPA inquiry? and What values guide WPA research? The 14 chapters are divided into 2 parts: Writing Program Administrators Inquiry in Action and Writing Program Administrators Inquiry in Reflection. Part 1 exemplifies WPA research by describing and conceptualizing specific research projects conducted as part of WPA responsibilities and thereby provides a detailed picture of administrative research. Part 2 then draws on the concrete experiences of particular WPA's and particular writing programs raising and reflecting on issues about WPA research in general. Each chapter demonstrates that WPA's inquiry is characterized by a recursive interplay between reflection and action. Some of the many topics addressed in the book include diverse research methodologies for diverse audiences, feminist methods, conflicts between teaching and assessing writing outcomes, assessment research as a teaching tool, the contributions of sociolinguistic profiling, assessing teacher preparation programs, reflective essays, local research and curriculum development, enabling research in the writing program, archives, WPA's as historians, historical work on WPA's, the role of research in writing programs, and postmodern mapping. The Writing Program Administrator as Theorist Shirley K. Rose, Irwin Weiser, 2002 The work of Writing Program Administration however overturns that perception for it demands that theory be integrated within everyday decision making

Writing Center Research Paula Gillespie, Alice Gillam, Lady Falls Brown, Byron Stay, 2001-12-01 There are writing centers at almost every college and university in the United States and there is an emerging body of professional discourse research and writing about them. The goal of this book is to open, formalize, and further the dialogue about research in and about writing centers. The original essays in this volume, all written by writing center researchers, directly address current concerns in several ways: they encourage studies, data collection, and publication by offering detailed reflective accounts of research; they encourage a diversity of approaches by demonstrating a range of methodologies, e.g., ethnography, longitudinal case study, rhetorical analysis, teacher research, available to both veteran and novice writing center professionals; they advance an ongoing conversation about writing center research by explicitly addressing epistemological and ethical issues. The book aims to encourage and guide other researchers while at the same time offering new knowledge that has resulted from the studies it analyzes.

The WPA Outcomes Statement—A Decade Later Nicholas N. Behm, Gregory R. Glau, 2014-09-12 The WPA Outcomes Statement: A Decade Later examines the ways that the Council of Writing Program Administrators' Outcomes Statement for First Year Composition has informed curricula, generated programmatic, institutional, and disciplinary change, and affected a disciplinary understanding of best practices in first year composition.

Labor, Writing Technologies, and the Shaping of Composition in the Academy Pamela Takayoshi, Patricia Sullivan, 2007 The changing nature of the workforce and the increasing presence of technologies in composition studies promise to affect not only the ways we work but the very shape of the discipline This volume takes on the challenge of thinking about the intersections of work technology and composition studies in ways that are unprecedented These areas interact in numerous and significant ways yet the focus is often on the concepts in isolation from one another Authors in this collection explore technology and labor issues across a range of institutional locations to focus on working as scholars administrators of writing programs writing across the curriculum programs assessment programs teachers workers held accountable to bureaucrats and gendered and raced workers and the future roles compositions will adopt in the university and how technology affects those identities The chapters address the nature of composition labor in a technological society the new geographies of composition variety of identity and agency that are enabled and denied academic labor outside the classroom and academy and how virtuality impacts labor They provide varied perspectives on what issues are of import and alert researchers and teachers that a serious consideration of labor and writing technologies are needed to expand notions of what composition studies can and must be Publisher's description

GRADIVA JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY THEORY AND PRACTICE, 2000 A Guide to Professional Development for Graduate Students in English Cindy Moore, Hildy Miller, 2006 In this guide the first of its kind Cindy Moore and Hildy Miller provide detailed information about how to develop credentials for both academic and nonacademic careers in teaching scholarship administration service and editing Written in response to nationwide calls for more comprehensive and deliberate mentoring of future English faculty and for greater support of students who wish to pursue English oriented jobs outside of the academy this guide the first of its kind is at once practical and eye opening Providing detailed information about how to develop credentials for both academic and nonacademic careers in teaching scholarship administration service and editing the guide offers an indepth look at the field s many possibilities On another level the book addresses the rigors and stresses of graduate school by candidly discussing faculty expectations student responsibilities and a variety of survival strategies Whether you are already enrolled in a graduate program or have just begun to consider program options this resource can help you identify long term career goals as well as the skills and abilities needed to meet those goals The Activist WPA Linda Adler-Kassner, 2008-03-15 Study of univ writing programs Works and Days, 2003 Field Of Dreams Peggy O'Neill, Angela Crow, Larry W. Burton, 2002-06 Further chapters respond to these with critique and reflection on labor issues promotion and tenure institutional politics and disciplinary questions A promising read for department and writing program administrators as well as for general compositionists A Field of Dreams looks closely at particular independent writing programs and situates them broadly in the current scene of composition scholarship administration English studies and the university Jacket Negotiating Religious Faith in the Composition Classroom Elizabeth Vander Lei, Bonnie Lenore Kyburz, 2005 Resource added for the Communication 108011 courses Feeling Our Way Wendy Bishop, Deborah Coxwell Teague, 2004-03 This provocative and sometimes humorous collection of essays written by college writing teachers for college writing teachers explores seldom discussed issues to help TAs develop confidence in overcoming classroom challenges Teachers both seasoned and new to the profession create a dialogue by sharing their rich and varied experiences and responses to classroom and department situations Each Part presents 4 to 7 short essays by Adjuncts and TAs focusing on their experiences and lessons learned At the end of each Part more experienced teachers respond to the ideas generated in the preceding essays and add their own advice concerns and solutions Part 1 Approaching the Classroom centers on entering a new writing program and succeeding as a foreign born writing teacher Part 2 Inside Out focuses on gaining confidence as a teacher and managing sexual politics and power struggles in the classroom Part 3 Beyond the Classroom helps readers question the teaching profession and offers advice on surviving department politics An Appendix provides a useful listing of composition texts that offer further helpful advice
