Film making is a collaborative business and when it comes to the way a film looks the critical relationship is that between the director and the cinematographer now often called the director of photography whose role in the enterprise is too often undervalued if not wholly overlooked. Yet as his book shows the cinematographer's contribution to many great movies has been both vital and distinctive and director-cinematographer partnerships such as those between David Lean and Freddie Young or Ingmar Bergman and Sven Nykvist have played a significant role in the history of the cinema. This book systematically examines and documents the technical and creative role of the cinematographer in European cinema over the past 100 years. It has been compiled under the aegis of the Association of European Cinematographers. Imago and the contributors include many distinguished figures in European cinema history such as the director Bernardo Bertolucci, the actor Marcello Mastroianni, cinematographers Sven Nykvist, Jack Cardiff and Giuseppe Rotunno and a number of leading film historians.
