

Microeconomics

Microeconomics focuses on analyzing the behavior of individuals and firms in making decisions regarding the allocation of resources. We will cover some basic and advanced topics in microeconomics in depth.

1. Supply and Demand

Concepts of Supply and Demand:

- Demand: The quantity demanded of a good or service at different price levels over a certain period.
- Supply: The quantity supplied of a good or service at different price levels over a certain period.

Law of Demand and Supply:

- Law of Demand: When the price of a good increases, the quantity demanded decreases, and vice versa, ceteris paribus.
- Law of Supply: When the price of a good increases, the quantity supplied increases, and vice versa, ceteris paribus.

Market Equilibrium:

- Equilibrium: Occurs when the quantity demanded equals the quantity supplied at a certain price level.
- Equilibrium Price: The price at which the market clears, with no surplus or shortage.

Changes in Equilibrium:

- Change in Demand: Can occur due to changes in consumer income, preferences, prices of substitutes and complements, and future expectations.
- Change in Supply: Can occur due to changes in production costs, technology, the number of producers, and future expectations.
