Soho Leopard:

The Soho Leopard Ruth Padel, 2011-06-08 Beautiful disturbing and a pleasure to read Ruth Padel's new poems are her most ambitious yet adding animal legend and zoological science to her glitteringly imaginative canvas With her gift for bringing together experiences and tones of voice that normally stay far apart she sweeps us from Dulwich Pizza Hut to ancient Siberia King's Cross to nineteenth century Burma We meet Socrates urban foxes Louisiana alligators and the endangered Amur leopard in poems resonating with sensuous delight in nature but also with history and loss Finally a Chinese painter searches for tigers in a forest doomed to the sawmill while the minister who sold it scoffs an aphrodisiac bowl of tiger penis soup Hallucinatory and lyrical passionately musical seething with life The Soho Leopard explores our human need for wildness and also for stories wherever we find them A wonderfully ferocious new collection from one of our most exciting poets Ars Interpres: An International Journal of Poetry, Translation and Art: No. 3 Alexander Deriev, 2004

The Rialto, 2004-11 Acumen Magazine, 2005 Beyond the Lyric Fiona Sampson, 2012-09-06 British poetry is enjoying a period of exceptional richness and variety This is exciting but it's also confusing and throws up the need for an enthusiastic guide that can explain and celebrate the many parallel poetry projects now underway Beyond the Lyric does just that This is a book of enthusiasms an intelligent and witty map of contemporary British poetry and a radical accessible guide to living British poets grouped for the first time according to the kind of poetry they write In a series of groundbreaking new classifications beginning with the bread and butter diction of the Plain Dealers and ending on the capacious generosity of the Exploded Lyric it examines the broad range of contemporary tendencies from the baroque swagger of the Dandies to the restrained elegance of the Oxford Elegists from the layered haunting verse of Mythopoesis to the inventive explorations of the New Formalists By probing the cultural context from which these groups emerge and shifting the critical focus back to the work itself Sampson's astute analysis illuminates and demystifies each of these terms and asks the big questions about what makes a poem The result is a celebration of poetry as a connected responsive and above all communitarian form Lively engaging and inviting this is the indispensable and authoritative guide for anyone who's ever wondered what's going on in British poetry today Poetry Wales, 2004 Hyphen Ra Page, 2003 This is an experimental short story anthology featuring Anne Stevenson Sean O'Brien David Constantine and many more The Poem and the Journey Ruth Padel, 2007 Ruth Padel is an award winning poet who has also become renowned as an energetic generous and thought provoking guide to reading poetry Her 52 Ways of Looking at a Poem with its lively overview of contemporary writing and eye opening readings of individual poems is indispensable for anyone who writes poetry teaches it or simply wants to enjoy it In her new book she uses sixty poems by some of our finest poets to look at the idea of the journey through literature and through life As Padel makes clear in her fascinating introduction today's debates about how accessible a poem should be are poetry's older tradition To rhyme or not to rhyme The Elizabethans fought over that one while the Greeks couldn't agree about whether poetry should be dumbed down or remain the preserve of the elite Combining her training as a Classicist with her insights as a poet Padel highlights the ways in which the best poets now find a balance between rhymed formal verse and modernism's freer styles using a traditional formal craft to convey genuinely felt up to the minute experience In an increasingly unstable world she argues we need poetry more than ever to help us to see afresh and understand the journeys of our lives

Consorting with Angels Deryn Rees-Jones,2005 In this pioneering study Deryn Rees Jones argues that the poetic traditions of the 20th century must be radically re thought in light of the formal and thematic experimentation of three generations of women poets Visualizing the Tragic Chris Kraus,2007-06-07 A collection of essays that brings new insight to the question of the continuing and inexhaustible fascination of Athenian tragedy of the fifth century BCE There is particular reference to the visual the myriad ways in which tragic texts are re interpreted re appropriated and re visualized through verbal and artistic description Self Into Song Carol Rumens,2007 In this innovative series of public lectures at the University of Newcastle upon Tyne leading contemporary poets speak about the craft and practice of poetry to audiences drawn from both the city and the university The lectures are then published in book form by Bloodaxe giving readers everywhere the opportunity to learn what the poets themselves think about their own subject Carol Rumens three lectures cover the poetry of Philip Larkin and Derek Mahon as well as form and music in the work of a range of contemporary women poets Forget What Did Philip Larkin's Poems of Lost Childhood What made this strange sometimes unattractive personality a powerful poet Putting aside the politics this lecture draws on autobiographical material as well as early poems to suggest a possible imaginative source in childhood trauma It also traces the younger Larkin's interest in Jung Lawrence Auden and others and examines the famous two voices of his maturity the demotic and the literary Solitude and Sociability An Introduction to the Poetry of Derek Mahon Bleak North Antrim coastlines and a sense of isolation contrast with the warm intellectual companionship of other writers and artists often conjured in Derek Mahon's work This lecture takes an overview of his themes and forms including a look at the conversation he conducts via his many dedicatory and epistolary poems across the time zones Line Women and Song Have women poets brought distinctive approaches to the music and metre of contemporary poetry Adrienne Rich Marilyn Hacker and Ruth Padel provide some of the material examined Can there be a politically radical verse in traditional form Can the English language and ancient imported forms and metres still fruitfully work together This is the fifth book in the Newcastle Bloodaxe Poetry Series Learning to Make an Oud in Nazareth Ruth Padel,2014-07-03 Making is our defence against the dark Through images of conflict and craftsmanship Ruth Padel's powerful new poems address the Middle East tracing a quest for harmony in the midst of destruction An oud the central instrument of Middle Eastern music is made and broken An ancient synagogue survives attacks a Palestinian boy in a West Bank refugee camp learns capoeira and a guide shows us Bethlehem's Church of the Nativity during a siege At the heart of the book are Christ's last words from the Cross Uniting this moving collection is the common ground shared by Judaism
