The Pagoda Builders:

The Pagoda Builders Carlos Yu Zhu Zher, Carlos Zhu Yu, 1998-08 The builder, 1873 The Story of Architecture Witold Rybczynski, 2022-11-29 An inviting exploration of architecture across cultures and centuries by one of the field's eminent authors In this sweeping history from the Stone Age to the present day Witold Rybczynski shows how architectural ideals have been affected by technological economic and social changes and by changes in taste The host of examples ranges from places of worship such as Hagia Sophia and Brunelleschi's Duomo to living spaces such as the Katsura Imperial Villa and the Alhambra national icons such as the Lincoln Memorial and the Sydney Opera House and skyscrapers such as the Seagram Building and Beijing's CCTV headquarters Rybczynski's narrative emphasizes the ways that buildings across time and space are united by the human desire for order meaning and beauty Engaging and accessible this is a coherent story of architecture's physical manifestation of the universal aspiration to celebrate honor and commemorate and an exploration of the ways that each building is a unique product of individual patrons architects and builders Firm in opinion even handed and rooted in scholarship this book will delight anyone interested in understanding the buildings they use visit and pass by each day

Eileen Chang Kam Louie, 2012-03-01 Eileen Chang 1920-1995 is arguably the most perceptive writer in modern Chinese literature She was one of the most popular writers in 1940s Shanghai but her insistence on writing about individual human relationships and mundane matters rather than revolutionary and political movements meant that in mainland China she was neglected until very recently Outside the mainland her life and writings never ceased to fascinate Chinese readers There are hundreds of works about her in the Chinese language but very few in other languages This is the first work in English to explore her earliest short stories as well as novels that were published posthumously It discusses the translation of her stories for film and stage presentation as well as nonliterary aspects of her life that are essential for a more comprehensive understanding of her writings including her intense concern for privacy and enduring sensitivity to her public image The thirteen essays examine the fidelity and betrayals that dominate her alter ego's relationships with parents and lovers informed by theories and methodologies from a range of disciplines including literary historical gender and film studies These relationships are frequently dramatized in plays and filmic translations of her work
