Transformists' Petrology Friedrich Karl Drescher-Kaden, S. S. Augustithis, 1982 The Transformists' School of Thought in Petrology S. S. Augustithis, 1979 Transformists' Petrology F. K. Drescher-Kaden, Stylianos Savvas Augustithis, 1982
Transformists' Petrology /edited by F. K. Drescher-Kaden and S. S. Augustithis F. K. Drescher Kaden, S. S. Augustithis, 1982 Petrology of Igneous and Metamorphic Rocks Donald W. Hyndman, 1985 Pre-Mesozoic Geology in the Alps J.F.v. Raumer, Franz Neubauer, 2012-12-06

The Alps are an arched mountain chain stretching 1500 km between Vienna and Graz in Austria and Genova in Italy They resulted from the collision of the African and Laurasian plates during Mesozoic and Tertiary times The high standard of knowledge attained over the last 30 years by the working groups on Alpine Metamorphism is well known and helped considerably to recognize pre Mesozoic elements in the Alps In Part I of this book the subdivision of the major Alpine units and pre Mesozoic pal inspastic reconstructions are covered before discussion of the pre Mesozoic geology in Parts II III and IV It is understood that the Mesozoic and later events overprinted pre existing structures veiling the earlier history and the nature of protoliths Although the Alpine overprint does not facilitate the recognition of older structures pre Mesozoic basement units were recognized during the first beginnings of geological observations in the Alps about 200 years ago Fifty percent of the Alpine domain is underlain by basement units that have been unconformably covered since Permian and Mesozoic times This basement appears today in a complex pattern among the Alpine structures The history of their discovery and explanation parallel with a growing sophistication of research methods are the subject of the introductory chapter of Part II The Nature and Origin of Granite W.S. Pitcher, 2012-12-06

The origin of granite has for long fascinated geologists though serious debate on the topic may be said to date from a famous meeting of the Geological Society of France in 1847 My own introduction to the subject began exactly one hundred years later when in an interview with Profes sor H H Read I entered his study as an amateur fossil collector and left it as a committed granite petrologist after just ten minutes I can hardly aspire to convert my reader in so dramatic a way yet this book is an attempt however inadequate to pass on the enthusiasm that I inherited and which has been reinforced by innumerable discussions on the outcrop with granitologists of many nationalities and of many shades of opinion Since the 1960s interest in granites has been greatly stimulated by the thesis that granites image their source rocks in the inaccessible deep crust and that their diversity is the result of varying global tectonic context So great a body of new data and new ideas has accumulated that my attempt to review the whole field of granite studies must carry with it a possible charge of arrogance especially as I have adopted the teaching device of presenting the material from a personal point of view with its thinly disguised prejudices U.S. Geological Survey Bulletin Dana Bove, Edward Joseph Young, Laura N. Augustithis,1993 Hydrothermal Differentiation and Myrmekite Lorence Gene Collins,1988 Atlas of Metamorphic-metasomatic Textures and Processes S. S. Augustithis,1990 Hardbound This monograph is essentially an atlas illustrated by 375 figures mainly photomicrographs presenting the most common and significant textures of the metamorphic metasomatic rocks from many important regions of the world The book as a whole covers the wide spectrum of metamorphic processes and the basic relation of metamorphic processes and textures is emphasised Metamorphism metasomatism is seen as an integral system where every textural intergrowth is the result of a particular process In addition principles of comparative anatomy widely accepted in bioscience are applied in metamorphic petrology and conclusions are reached inductively based on textural analysis The comparative anatomy approach aims at finding ideas and principles that will attempt to unify diverse textural patterns of an evolving system as rocks are and integrate them into concepts of wide application Emphasis is put on the significance of crystalloblaste Metallogeny of Basic and Ultrabasic Rocks ,1986 Journal of Sedimentary Petrology ,1976 Geology of Granites and Their Metallogenic Relations Keqin Xu,Guangchi Tu,1984
