Theology For Preaching:

A Theology of Preaching Richard Lischer, 2001-06-08 Richard Lischer's book is a stirring affirmation of preaching's importance as a major enterprise in its own right. It is, he writes, a theological preface whose aim is to show how theology informs preaching and how preaching as a kerygmatic oral practical activity informs theology and brings it to its final form of expression. Dr. Lischer points to the historically negative results of preaching's exclusion from theology and then shows the benefits derived from the proper interaction of the two disciplines. As he elaborates on this theme, he explores the centrality of the Resurrection in both theology and preaching, the relation of the law and the gospel, and how preaching calls upon theology to recover its oral aural foundation. For Lischer, the act of preaching is an exercise of the preacher's imagination. The real work of imagination is not inserting clever stories or esthetically pleasing images into the argument of the sermon. It is knowing how to read texts in such a way that they will be allowed to function according to their original power and intent.

An Evangelical Theology of Preaching Donald English, 1996 This book focuses on why we communicate the gospel and helps the communicator to clarify what should be communicated to God's people and to the secular people that communicators are trying to reach.

Speaking God's Words Peter Adam, 1996 This training manual for aspiring and active preachers illuminates a vital yet much neglected area with telling illustrations from the past.

Theology Is for Preaching (Studies in Historical and Systematic Theology) Chase R. Kuhn, Paul Grimmond, 2021-03-10 Is it right to just preach the text? Why do we preach and do theology? How do we relate them? And how do they relate to God's word? Theology Is for Preaching helps preachers with theology and theologians with preaching. Though diverse in contexts and disciplines, the contributors share a commitment to equipping the saints to rightly handle the word of truth. Through essays on foundations, methods, employing theology for preaching and preaching for theology, this volume will equip preachers and theologians to engage deeply with the text of the Bible and communicate its meaning with clarity.

A Theology of Preaching and Dialectic Aaron P. Edwards, 2020-01-23 How does the preacher know what God might say now based upon the many things God said then? Preachers and theologians throughout Christian history have grappled with Scripture's diverse emphases alongside the urgent task of declaring the authoritative Word of God in the contemporary pulpit. Aaron Edwards offers a new way of engaging with this problem by exploring the theological relationship between biblical dialectics and heraldic proclamation. Edwards highlights the theological necessity of dialectical variety without forfeiting assertiveness in the prophetic moment of preaching. A vast array of key voices from the theological tradition are drawn upon, including Augustine, Aquinas, Eckhart, Luther, Calvin, Hegel, Kierkegaard, Chesterton, Barth, Bultmann, Tillich, Ebeling, and others, to navigate the connection between Scriptural unity, clarity, and paradoxical plurivocality, leading to a nuanced account of dialectic. Applying this to the homiletically neglected concept of heraldic confidence in preaching, Edwards examines the theological possibility of preaching in light of dialectical complexity via its prophetic dimension. He shows how the uniquely revelatory relationship of Word and Spirit enables Scriptural illumination prophetic discernment and dialectical decisiveness in the momentary encounter which undergirds all Christian proclamation

Paul's Theology of Preaching Duane Litfin, 2015-05-22 Duane Litfin former president of Wheaton College explores how Paul's theology of preaching can inform the church's preaching today Through a detailed study of 1 Corinthians 1-4 Litfin shows how Paul's method of proclamation differed from Greco-Roman rhetoric and how Pauline preaching can be a model for the contemporary preaching task

The Sermon as God's Word Robert W. Duke, 1980

Christian Preaching Michael Pasquarello III, 2011-06-28 Michael Pasquarello has written a must-read book articulating a Trinitarian vision for preaching His compelling argument is richly informed by traditional biblical hermeneutics creedal history understood as storied attestation of the witness of Scripture and liturgical theology and practice considered as embodied performance of the Bible's divine narrative Here is a clear summons to the church to abandon all lesser homiletic aims and to prayerfully and faithfully proclaim the holy gospel to the glory of God

Charles L. Bartow Princeton Theological Seminary Like all of Michael Pasquarello's work his newest book not only upholds the classical Christian tradition but also breathes new vitality into it In an era in which preaching is reduced to persuasive communication Pasquarello reminds us that the Christian message has a content that originates in and gives expression to the Father Son and Holy Spirit

Richard Lischer Duke Divinity School One of the refreshing things about this fine book by Michael Pasquarello is that when he thinks about the ministry of preaching he is not afraid to measure the breadth historically or plumb the depths theologically Pasquarello has written this book like a good sermon faithfully thoughtfully prayerfully and with a profound word to speak We are in his debt

Thomas G. Long Candler School of Theology Boldly challenging homiletical accommodation to American culture Pasquarello seeks to change the subject of preaching from method and marketing to the Triune God who is the source and goal of our speech A welcome theological vision of preaching

Charles L. Campbell Columbia Theological Seminary Christian Preaching brings together two disciplines that have sadly grown apart such that they almost developed irreconcilable differences preaching and theology Pasquarello offers a brilliant critique of theology as technique and draws on the theology and sermons of Irenaeus Augustine Luther Wesley and others convincingly demonstrating that effective pragmatic preaching requires substantive theological engagement and vice versa This book accomplishes its purpose so well that it should be used not only in preaching courses but also in basic theology courses No preacher should be let loose on a congregation without passing through Pasquarello's Christian Preaching

Preaching in the New Testament Jonathan Griffiths, 2017-03-14 Is preaching mandated in the post apostolic context and if so how does it relate to the preaching of the Old Testament prophets and of Jesus and his apostles In this NSBT volume Jonathan Griffiths seeks answers to these questions in the New Testament surveying the Scripture and setting his exegetical findings within the context of biblical theology

Preaching for the Church Richard R. Caemmerer, 1959 This informative resource presents practical ways to reach your listeners with the message of Law and Gospel It lays out the theology and process of homiletics in an effective goal malady means approach This book attempts to relate the many facets of Christian preaching its preparation and delivery to a covering theological principle namely that preaching is God s Word in Christ to people This principle is in the forefront of contemporary Christian thought because of fresh interest in Biblical studies concern for the theology of the church and new insight into the meaning of the Word of God It has three parts God has redeemed men through Christ to be His own and puts the Word of Christ on the lips of people to give men life and faith The Scriptures set forth God s plan in Christ and hence are the primary source and shape of this message The people who have come to faith in God through Christ are His church and need to receive and to give His Word for their life

Homiletical Theology David Schnasa Jacobsen, 2015-02-13 Karl Barth famously argued that all theology is sermon preparation But what if all sermon preparation is actually theology This book pursues a thoroughgoing theological vision for the practice of preaching as a way of doing theology The idea is not just that homiletics is the realm of theological application That would leave preaching in the position of simply implementing a theology already arrived at Instead the vision in these pages is of a form of theology that begins with preaching itself its practice its theories and its contexts Homiletical theology is thus a unique way of doing theology even a constructive theological task in its own right Homiletician David Schnasa Jacobsen has assembled several of the leading lights of contemporary homiletics to help to see its task ever more deeply as theological yet in profoundly diverse ways Along the way readers will not only discover how homileticians do theology homiletically but will deepen the way in which they understand their own preaching as a theological task
