Spatial Strategies In Retailing:

Spatial Strategies in Retailing R. Laulajainen,2012-12-06 Locational research has long been concerned with industrial plants and the site selection of retail stores The major determinants and decision processes now seem to be fairly well understood Consequently the research frontier in retailing has shifted to a higher spatial level the location of stores in the regional and national context Certainly stores tend to be found where the population is but beyond this obvious truth it is by no means outright clear how retailing companies with different formats and home bases perceive space and how space affects their performance if at all When the question is put this way what appears trivial at first undergoes a change and seems now complex enough to be worth a closer look It need not be true to cite the most obvious of examples that regions which are attractive as places of living for high school and college students the customary data base are also worthwhile from the business point of view No attempt is made here to penetrate the topic at analytical depth The ambition is simply to discover with the help of numerous descriptive examples whether any order does exist in the high level spatial behavior of retailing companies

Retail Structure Gary Akehurst,Nicholas Alexander,2012-10-12 First Published in 1996 The authors define retail structure in a retail distribution context as a snapshot of the state of play in the competitive struggle between retail companies and businesses each of which is seeking to not only survive but to grow The studies in this volume were first published in The Service Industries Journal Taken as a whole they serve two purposes first they introduce the concept and process of retail structure taken from the viewpoint of a continuing competitive struggle for market supremacy and second they serve as an introduction to the wider study of retail development

Retailing: Comparative and international retailing A. M. Findlay,Leigh Sparks,2002 Strategic Retail Management Joachim Zentes,Dirk Morschett,Hanna Schramm-Klein,2007-10-16 The authors demonstrate the broad and complex topics of retail management in 15 lessons Each lesson includes a thematic overview of key issues and a comprehensive case study International best practice companies are used to highlight managerial implications and the key discussion points

Retail Geography Shuguang Wang,Paul Du,2020-05-26 The retail sector is an integral part of a national economy From the political economy perspective all consumer goods have surplus values locked up in them the surplus values are not realized until the consumer goods are purchased by consumers through various distribution channels As such retailing is the essential link between production and consumption The success of a retail business depends on two general factors the location of the retail outlet and management of the business Both factors are equally important If the business is located in the wrong place with the wrong customer base it will not generate expected sales Similarly if the business is poorly managed and operated it will not perform well even if the location is right Influenced by both traditional and new location theories Retail Geography is conceptualized and organized using the retail planning process as the framework The technical and methodological chapters help guide the reader with detailed descriptions of the techniques and are supported with practical examples to reflect the latest software development Retail Geography provides a state of the art summary and will act as a core textbook for undergraduate and graduate students of economic geography interested in specializing in retail and business geography The practical examples also make it a valuable handbook for practitioners in the field as well as students of retail management and commercial real estate management

Handbook of Research on Strategic Retailing of Private Label Products in a Recovering Economy Gómez-Suárez, Mónica, Martínez-Ruiz, María Pilar, 2016-06-20 As the global market continues to recuperate from economic downfall it is essential for private label products to find ways to compete with alternatives offered by wholesale and national retailers In many cases it becomes difficult for off brand products to generate market appeal when consumers have preconceived notions about the quality of generic products and loyalty to branded products The Handbook of Research on Strategic Retailing of Private Label Products in a Recovering Economy emphasizes advertising and promotional approaches being utilized as well as consumer behavior and satisfaction in response to marketing strategies and the sensitive pricing techniques being implemented to endorse generic and store brand products available on the market Highlighting brand competition between wholesalers retailers and private brand names following a global economic crisis this publication is an extensive resource for researchers graduate students economists and business professionals The Retailing Industry: The coming of the mass market 1800-1945 John Benson, Gareth Shaw, 1999

Planning for Retail Development Clifford Guy, 2006-10-11 Written by a leading expert in the field this is the first thorough critical review of retail planning policy in Britain including Scotland and Wales It covers recent changes in government policy and guidance and examines retail policy within a broader economic and social context Planning for Retail Development explains key events and debates in the evolution of retail planning policy at central and local government levels since the 1960s and draws contrasts between the 1980s a period in which retail developers were encouraged by central government to expand away from town centres and the more recent emphasis on protection and promotion of town centres as the most appropriate location for new development The book develops a critical evaluation of past and present retail planning policies based upon analyses of retailers objectives and of typical consumer shopping behaviour Relationships between retail planning and wider societal concerns including sustainable development social inclusion and urban regeneration are also examined and analysed and guidelines for future policy objectives and content are drawn

The Globalization of Retailing Neil M. Coe, Neil Wrigley, 2009 This path breaking collection brings together seminal contributions from the burgeoning multidisciplinary literature on the globalisation of retailing Retailing: Concepts, Institutions, and Management Rom J. Markin, 1971 International Retailing Peter J. McGoldrick, Gary Davies, 1995 International Retailing the first book to address seriously the recent trends in retailer internationalism provides a truly international review of the driving forces behind internationalism Particular attention is paid to the European market Environment & Planning A. , 1996 Retailing Management William R.

Davidson, Daniel Joseph Sweeney, Ronald W. Stampfl, 1984 This edition of the standard text has been updated to provide a comprehensive introduction to first and second year students of retailing Stresses professional management of multi unit retailing institutions and emphasizes the importance of financial and marketing strategies for profitability Detailed case studies give readers real world examples of business at work taken from actual Management Horizons consulting work Chapters discuss the theoretical foundations of retailing management the theory of change in retailing the relation of marketing theory and the marketing concept in general to retailing in particular the difference between marketing for manufacturing firms and for retailing firms the consumer environment and consumer behavior Text contains more statistics data and teachable and testable material than before Includes material on site location and store layout and design
