societies are embedded But effective social action can limit the extent of these costs and losses Ultimately only social transformation can limit the social and environmental harms of climate change But what does this mean To what extent is society at risk Are such risks particularized and restricted to specific segments and localities Or is society at risk in a more universal way Climate risks are re shaping the practices of households communities governments and businesses In this way climate risks are a dynamic element in social change and social processes Risk holds a mirror to society revealing who and what is prioritized recognized and valued It also provides a reckoning of our perceived strengths vulnerabilities and weaknesses This volume examines how we understand the societal risks of contemporary and forecast climate change impacts and those risks inherent in dealing with these impacts We know that society is fashioning a new global climate but climate change is also re fashioning society this book explores this dynamic process and considers its implications for future society
