Papers Julian Thomas, 1877 Reports of the Medical Officer of the Privy Council and Local Government Board [Great Britain]. 1898 suppl ,1898 A Voice from the South Laura Lorrimer, 1883 □□□□ ,1995 Report of the Medical Officer Great Britain. Local Government Board, 1898 Canadian Pen and Ink Sketches John Fraser, 1890 Publications of the Egyptian Research Account ,1898 Tell El Hesi Lawrence Toombs, 1985-10-31

The Tell el Hesi site comprises a 25 acre walled city from the Early Bronze III period. It is located on the southeastern edge of the Mediterranean coastal plain 26 km northeast of Gaza in Israel. Tell el Hesi was the first Palestinian site at which the principles of ceramic chronology and of stratigraphic excavation were applied and at which the relationship between pottery and stratigraphy was shown to be significant. In 1890 W M Flinders Petrie excavated at Hesi and produced a general picture of its occupational history. In 1891-92 F J Bliss excavated stratigraphically through each successive level of the mound and identified eleven occupational levels which he grouped into eight strata or cities. In 1970 The Joint Archaeological Expedition to Tell el Hesi sponsored by the American Schools of Oriental Research and a consortium of educational institutions entered the site with the objectives of investigating in greater detail and with more refined methods the stratigraphic divisions identified by Petrie and Bliss. This book appears as the second volume in the Joint Expedition's series of final publications regarding their field experience and findings. The presence of Strata I and II, the modern military trenching and the Muslim cemetery combined to force the Joint Expedition to an important archaeological decision. Both strata belong to the modern period and fall into the vaguely defined category of historical archaeology. Strata of this kind are frequently disregarded in the excavation and reporting of Near Eastern sites. However the decision was made to excavate these strata with the same detail as the more ancient levels of the mound. This decision launched a pioneering effort in the archaeology of the Palestine area and necessitated the development of new excavation and recording techniques. The aim of this report is to present in an organized form all the data on Strata I and II gathered by the expedition to analyze this data to offer cultural conclusions and to compare the results in a preliminary way with the data from other sites and with the published work of other anthropologists.

An Empty Grave
 Andrew Welsh-Huggins, 2021-06-15

Private investigator Andy Hayes takes the assignment against his better judgment. In 1979 a high profile burglar shot a cop, was apprehended and then disappeared without ever being prosecuted. Forty years later after the wounded cop's suicide his son Preston Campbell is convinced there's been a cover up that allowed his father's attacker to go free. At first Hayes dismisses Campbell's outlandish conspiracy theories. But when a mysterious Cold War connection to the burglar emerges the investigation heats up and Hayes discovers a series of deaths that seem to be connected one way or another to the missing criminal. Nothing seems to add up though and Hayes finds himself hurtling headlong down a decades old path of deadly secrets. In the midst of cracking the cold case Hayes has another mystery to solve closer to home. What's been troubling his younger son Joe and why is his ex-wife so eager to have the boy out of her house? Further complicating matters Hayes learns that another private eye, the captivating but inscrutable Hillary Quinne is also on the trail of the vanished burglar and needs Hayes's help As their professional and personal lives blur Hayes wonders what he's gotten himself into and whether he really wants out *Changing Lands in Changing Memories.
