Zafer Senocak:

Perilous Kinship Zafer Şenocak, Tom Cheesman, 2009 Zafer Senocak has been called the Woody Allen of German novelists In Perilous Kinship German and Turkish and Jewish memories of genocide and mutual suspicions are comically fused in a single lackadaisical character Gefährliche Verwandtschaft has been translated into French Spanish and Turkish English by Tom Cheesman Germany in Transit Deniz Göktürk, David Gramling, Anton Kaes, 2007-04-03 Publisher description

First Light Zafer Senocak, 2024-05-21 In this bilingual collection Turkish and English Zafer Senocak returns to the language of his childhood even as he writes from Germany his home since he was eleven Readers will find explorations of migration exile memory identity and the fine line between reason and belief themes that have appeared throughout his career as a leading Turkish German intellectual but which gain new shades of meaning as he articulates them in his first language Some poems reference mystical Islam exploring both hidden and evident aspects of the world the real and the dream like as well as Turkish poetic traditions These poems movingly give voice to what his translator Kristin Dickinson calls moments of cross cultural contact and entanglement The book will be a fascinating companion to his earlier collection Door Languages published by Zephyr Press in 2008 translated from German by Elizabeth Oehlkers Wright Diaspora and Memory, 2016-08-01 Experiences of migration and dwelling in displacement impinge upon the lives of an ever increasing number of people worldwide with business class comfort but more often with unrelenting violence Since the early 1990s the political and cultural realities of global migration have led to a growing interest in the different forms of diasporic existence and identities The articles in this book do not focus on the external boundaries of diaspora what is diasporic and what is not but on one of its most important internal boundaries which is indicated by the second term in the title of this book memory It is not by chance that the right to remember the responsibility to recall are central issues of the debates in diasporic communities and their relation to their cultural and political surroundings The relation of diaspora and memory contains important critical and maybe even subversive potentials Memory can transcend the territorial logic of dispersal and return and emerge as a competing source of diasporic identity The articles in this volume explore how shaped by the responsibilities of testimony as well as by the normalizing forces of amnesia and forgetting and political interests memory is a performative figurative process rather than a secure space of identity

Reflections on Europe in Transition Ursula E. Beitter, 2007 Original Scholarly Monograph

Contemporary Migration Literature in German and English Sandra Vlasta, 2015-10-14 Up until now migration literature has primarily been defined as texts written by migrant authors a definition that has been discussed criticised and even rejected by critics and authors alike Very rarely has migration literature been understood as literature on the topic of migration which is an approach this book adopts by presenting a comparative analysis of contemporary texts on experiences of migration By focusing on specific themes and motifs in selected texts this study suggests that migration literature is a sub genre that exists in both various bodies of literature as well as various languages This book analyses English and German texts by authors such as Monica Ali Dimitr Dinev Anna Kim Timothy Mo Preethi Nair Caryl Phillips Hamid Sadr and Vladimir Vertlib among others

Transcultural Memory Rick Crownshaw, 2016-03-16 Memories are not static or frozen remaining in particular sites or places within and belonging to particular groups cultures or nations rather memory travels Broadly speaking memory has travelled because of the demographic displacements brought about by modernity's extremes slavery colonialism ethnic cleansing and genocide and also because of the trade travel and migration made possible by globalisation Whether social movement is violent exilic migratory emancipatory or oppressive it is accompanied by memory With the movement of people memories of modernity's histories and postmodern legacies meet correspond and often become mutually constitutive Even where memories compete with each other for cultural dominance mutual dialogue and recognition is implicit if not explicit Memories travel through and across cultures and national boundaries a process increasingly facilitated by mass media technologies This collection explores a range of case studies of transcultural memory as well as theorising the mobility of memory as it travels It was originally published as a special issue of the journal parallax

Zafer Şenocak Tom Cheesman, Karin E. Yeşilada, 2003 Zafer Senocak one of the most important German literary voices of the over two million strong Turkish community in Germany is introduced in this book Through a series of academic articles the volume analyzes all aspects of Senocak's writing including previously unpublished material Also included are a biographical essay and an interview with the author

Turkish Literature as World Literature Burcu Alkan, Çimen Günay-Erkol, 2020-12-10 Essays covering a broad range of genres and ranging from the late Ottoman era to contemporary literature open the debate on the place of Turkish literature in the globalized literary world Explorations of the multilingual cosmopolitanism of the Ottoman literary scene are complemented by examples of cross generational intertextual encounters The renowned poet Nâzım Hikmet is studied from a variety of angles while contemporary and popular writers such as Orhan Pamuk and Elif Şafak are contextualized Turkish Literature as World Literature not only fills a significant lacuna in world literary studies but also draws a composite historical political and cultural portrait of Turkey in its relations with the broader world

Finding the Foreign Robert Schechtman, Suin Roberts, 2007 Finding the Foreign includes the proceedings of the thirteenth annual Interdisciplinary German Studies Conference at the University of California Berkeley 2005 which explored constructions of the oeforeign in the German speaking context in language literature music and visual media The collected articles discuss how various tropes and rhetorical techniques have historically been employed to position cultural works on a spectrum from familiar to the strange The multi disciplinary range of approaches contained in this volume reveals how diverse the portrayals of the foreign have been as well as how contingent and varying the delineation between the foreign and the familiar can become
