Louise Richardson

The Islamic Threat Myth Or Reality:

The Islamic Threat John L. Esposito, 1999-10-07 Are Islam and the West on a collision course From the Ayatollah Khomeini to Saddam Hussein the image of Islam as a militant expansionist and rabidly anti American religion has gripped the minds of Western governments and media But these perceptions John L Esposito writes stem from a long history of mutual distrust criticism and condemnation and are far too simplistic to help us understand one of the most important political issues of our time In this new edition of The Islamic Threat Myth or Reality Esposito places the challenge of Islam in critical perspective Exploring the vitality of this religion as a global force and the history of its relations with the West Esposito demonstrates the diversity of the Islamic resurgence and the mistakes our analysts make in assuming a hostile monolithic Islam This third edition has been expanded to include new material on current affairs in Turkey Afghanistan Palestine and Southeast Asia as well as a discussion of international terrorism

The Islamic World and the West Kai Hafez, Mary Ann Kenny, 2000-01-01 The anthology is an introduction to political cultures in the Islamic world and into relations between the West and Islam It details its analysis in country studies on Algeria Iran Egypt Morocco Turkey Bosnia Israel Palestine Iraq Central Asia and Pakistan

The Politics of Secularism in International Relations Elizabeth Shakman Hurd, 2009-01-10 Conflicts involving religion have returned to the forefront of international relations And yet political scientists and policymakers have continued to assume that religion has long been privatized in the West This secularist assumption ignores the contestation surrounding the category of the secular in international politics The Politics of Secularism in International Relations shows why this thinking is flawed and provides a powerful alternative Elizabeth Shakman Hurd argues that secularist divisions between religion and politics are not fixed as commonly assumed but socially and historically constructed Examining the philosophical and historical legacy of the secularist traditions that shape European and American approaches to global politics she shows why this matters for contemporary international relations and in particular for two critical relationships the United States and Iran and the European Union and Turkey The Politics of Secularism in International Relations develops a new approach to religion and international relations that challenges realist liberal and constructivist assumptions that religion has been excluded from politics in the West The first book to consider secularism as a form of political authority in its own right it describes two forms of secularism and their far reaching global consequences

The Muslim Brotherhood Beverley Milton-Edwards, 2015-12-14 The Muslim

Brotherhood is the most significant and enduring Sunni Islamist organization of the contemporary era. Its roots lie in the Middle East but it has grown into both a local and global movement with its well placed branches reacting effectively to take the opportunities for power and electoral competition offered by the Arab Spring. Regarded by some as a force of moderation among Islamists and by others as a facade hiding a terrorist fundamentalist threat, the potential influence of the Muslim Brotherhood on Middle Eastern politics remains ambiguous. The Muslim Brotherhood: The Arab Spring and its Future Face provides an essential insight into the organisation with chapters devoted to specific cases where the Brotherhood has important impacts on society, the state and politics. Key themes associated with the Brotherhood such as democracy, equality, pan-Islamism, radicalism, reform, the Palestine issue and gender are assessed to reveal an evolutionary trend within the movement since its founding in Egypt in 1928 to its manifestation as the largest Sunni Islamist movement in the Middle East in the 21st century. The book addresses the possible future of the Muslim Brotherhood, whether it can surprise sceptics and effectively accommodate democracy and secular trends, and how its ascension to power through the ballot box might influence Western policy debates on their engagement with this manifestation of political Islam. Drawing on a wide range of sources, this book presents a comprehensive study of a newly resurgent movement and is a valuable resource for students, scholars and policy makers focused on Middle Eastern Politics.

The Roots of Terrorism Louise Richardson, 2013-09-05. The Roots of Terrorism is the first volume in the new Democracy and Terrorism series, a three volume project intended to explore one of the most pressing issues of our time: how to reconcile the need to fight terrorism with our desire to protect and enhance democratic values.

The Rise of the Islamic Empire and the Threat to the West Anthony J. Dennis, 1996. The trial and subsequent convictions of the terrorists that bombed the World Trade Center and planned other terrorist acts should put to rest any doubt about the deadly threat to American citizens posed by radical extremists. Mr Dennis' book is a well-written, intellectually provocative analysis of historical events and provides a chilling look into the future of possible terrorist acts by such Muslim fundamentalist extremists.

The Rise of the Islamic Movement in Sudan (1945-1989) Mustafa A. Abdelwahid, 2008. This work uses Social Movement Theory to explain the increased political power of Islam in Sudan.

Islam and New Global Realities Stan F. Fleming, Stanley F. Flemming, 2002-03-20. A detailed response to the most common questions people are asking about the attack of September 11th, 2001, the reality of Islamic Fundamentalism and how to share God's love with Muslims in every corner of the world.

Religion and Terrorism Veronica Ward, Richard Sherlock, 2013-12-24. Religion and Terrorism: The Use of Violence in Abrahamic Monotheism provides theoretical analysis of the nature of religious terrorism and religious martyrdom and also delves deeply into terrorist groups and beliefs in Judaism, Christianity and Islam. Religious terrorism is found in all three of the great monotheistic faiths and while the public is most aware of Islamic terrorism, Jewish and Christian faiths have extremist groups that warp their teaching in ways unrecognizable to most adherents to support terrorism. This work will be of interest to scholars in religious studies, political science and sociology The Muslim Brotherhood and the Kings of Jordan, 1945-1993 Marion Boulby, 1999 Boulby examines the ideology and social base of the organization from its founding based on the notion that the considerable discussion of contemporary Islamist organizations in Middle Eastern and Western literature have insufficiently analyzed specific movements in specific countries She focuses on the Brotherhood's relationship with the Jordanian state to highlight several characteristics Among them are a non confrontational approach to the regime a willingness to work within a parliamentary system without embracing liberal democracy as an end goal and the disintegration of the symbiotic relationship in the last few years of the study period Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

A Comparative Study of Islamic Finance in Australia and the UK Imran Lum, 2021-09-28 This book provides valuable insights into the practical challenges faced by the nascent Islamic finance industry and compares the Australian experience to developments in the UK It contributes to a greater understanding of how Muslims living as a minority in Australia and the UK negotiate Islamic doctrine in secular societies by focusing on one aspect of this negotiation namely the prohibition of rib There is little debate in the Islamic tradition on the prohibition of rib The differences however lie in the interpretation of rib and the question of how Muslims live in a society that is heavily reliant on interest and conventional banking yet at the same time adhere to Islamic guidelines Through the words of religious leaders Muslim professionals and university students Imran Lum provides real accounts of how Muslims in Australia and the UK practically deal with conventional banking and finance products such as home loans savings accounts and credit cards He also explores Muslim attitudes towards Islamic finance and queries whether religion is the sole determining factor when it comes to its uptake Drawing on his own unique experience as a practitioner responsible for growing an Islamic business in a conventional bank Lum provides a firsthand account of the complexities associated with structuring Islamic finance products that are not only sharia compliant but also competitive in a non Muslim jurisdiction Using uk k bonds as a case study he highlights the tangible and non tangible barriers to product development such as tax and regulatory requirements and the rise of Islamophobia Combining academic and industry experience Lum unpacks the relationship of Islamic finance with Muslim identity construction in the West and how certain modalities of religiosity can lead to an uptake of Islamic finance while others can lead to its rejection

The Eye of the Believer Jonathan M. Schachter, 2002 This research examines social psychological aspects of the foreign and counter terrorism policy making processes It presents common psychological biases that affect understanding the behavior of foreign actors in general and of sub state terrorist groups in particular and discusses the impact these biases can have on policies and ways in which the effects of these biases can be limited in the future It concludes by presenting a critical analysis of specific counter terrorism policy options for the near and long term with a particular emphasis on meeting America's stated policy objective of deterring future terrorism The study's findings will be of interest to the intelligence community to foreign defense and counter terrorism policy makers and analysts and to scholars interested in understanding past counter terrorism policies with an eye to improving future policy choices
