Content and Goals of the Course

We will classify soft matter with focus on polymer materials. Here, we will discuss the influence of the macromolecular architecture, the chosen processing route and processing conditions, on the resulting materials properties. In this context, we will discuss the importance of morphology, which is the organization of materials at any length scale. Morphology is the central link between “structure” and “properties” of soft matter. Our basic understanding of structure-property relations will be reinforced by introducing examples from various application areas, e.g. organic electronics, food and biomedical, followed by case studies and discussion.

The student should attain

- 1) Ability to link macromolecular architecture, processing routes and properties of soft matter;
- 2) Insights on the importance of morphology for the performance of soft matter products; and
- 3) Basic understanding on routes for tuning morphology to achieve desired properties.
