Post Apocalyptic Story Paperback:

Postapocalyptic Fiction and the Social Contract Claire P. Curtis, 2010-07-17 Postapocalyptic Fiction and the Social Contract We'll Not Go Home Again provides a framework for our fascination with the apocalyptic events. The popular appeal of the end of the world genre is clear in movies, novels, and television shows. Even our political debates over global warming, nuclear threats, and pandemic disease reflect a concern about the possibility of such events. This popular fascination is really a fascination with survival: how can we come out alive? And what would we do next? The end of the world is not about species death but about beginning again. This book uses postapocalyptic fiction as a terrain for thinking about the state of nature, the hypothetical fiction that is the driving force behind the social contract. The first half of the book examines novels that tell the story of the move from the state of nature to civil society through a Hobbesian, a Lockean, or a Rousseauian lens, including Lucifer's Hammer by Larry Niven and Jerry Pournelle, Alas Babylon by Pat Frank, Malevil by Robert Merle, and Into the Forest by Jean Hegland. The latter half of the book examines Octavia Butler's postapocalyptic Parable series, in which a new kind of social contract emerges, one built on the fact of human dependence and vulnerability. After London Richard Jefferies, 2019-04-27 After London by Richard Jefferies is an early example of post-apocalyptic fiction. After a catastrophe has depopulated England, the countryside reverts to nature, and the few survivors to a medieval way of life. The first part, The Relapse into Barbarism, is the account by some later historian of the fall of civilization and its consequences, with an affectionate description of nature enveloping England. The second part, Wild England, is an adventure taking place many years later in the wild landscape. Time After Time: A Gay Paranormal Western Love Story G.W. Mullins, 2018-02-07
